

Office of Legislative Counsel

Memorandum for the Director's Log

Submitted: 9 April 1952

Congressman Busbey has informed Legislative Counsel that as long as we have not furnished him with [redacted] in reply to his courteous correspondence, it will be necessary for him to raise the matter in a speech on the Floor after the Easter recess. While he was not anxious to take on CIA, he feels there is much about the Agency that he does not like and that the public should know about it. Therefore, there are several other things about CIA which he proposes to disclose in line with his theory that those who know about CIA consider it "a joke". He wishes General Smith to have warning that a speech will be forthcoming. Legislative Counsel has informed the Inspector General, who plans to raise the matter once more with Senator Dirksen.
